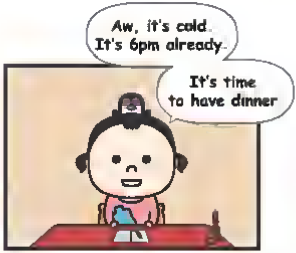
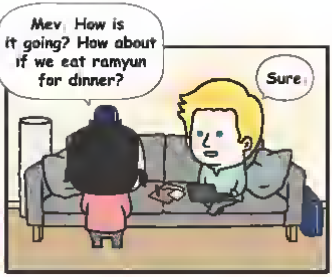
Penguin Loves Mev In the UK

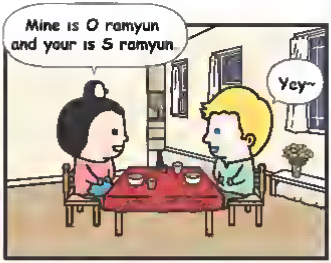
What?



One cold evening I needed to hold a hot water bottle.



Both of us were busy that day
so we decided to eat something simple



I boiled the two spicy ramyun with chopped spring onions, chillies and eggs.

Even though they were spicy, our bellies were warmed up nicely.

Sunday is the biggest day for Mev to prepare for his following week's lessons.

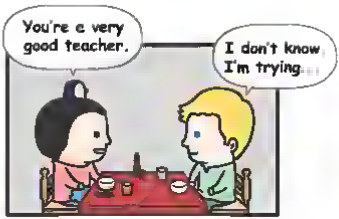
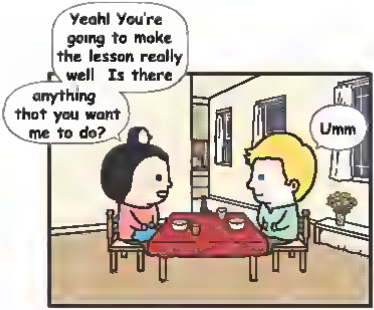
He seems very tense because of the pressure that he wants to do his best.



When I see him,
I feel very proud of him
but I also feel sorry for him.



So I always wish that I can help him.

I was pleased that my hug could make him feel better.

As I was still holding the hot water bottle on me whilst eating the ramyun, my belly was extremely warm.

I hugged him tight so he could feel the warmth well.

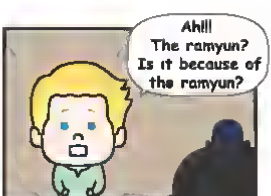
Why is it so hot??
That's because...



Ah!!!
The ramyun?
Is it because of the ramyun?

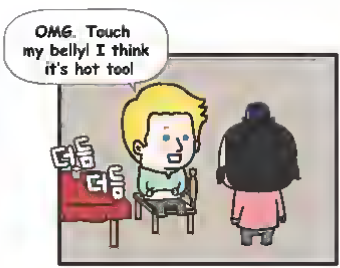
Because it was hot and spicy?



OMG. Touch my belly! I think it's hot too!
덥다 더워

Sometimes....

... I'm not sure if it's OK that he teaches someone.
